"Celebrating youthful curiosity, discovery and learning through books and reading."

November 9, 2013
Traverse City, Michigan
Welcome to the 2013 Moonbeam Children’s Book Awards!

Established in 2007, the Moonbeams are intended to bring increased recognition to exemplary children’s books and their creators, and to celebrate children’s books and life-long reading.

This year’s winners are a very geographically diverse group: medals went to books from 35 U.S. states, five Canadian provinces, and seven countries overseas. The diversity of the winning publishers proves that promoting childhood literacy knows no boundaries, as medal-winners came not only from long-established publishers, but from small presses, foundations, and self-published entrepreneurs. There are 165 medalists in all, chosen from over 1,200 total entries.

Creating books that inspire our children to read, to learn, and to dream is an extremely important task. These awards were conceived to reward those efforts and to bring these special books to the attention of booksellers, librarians, parents, and young readers.

Congratulations to all the winners!
